Trip Leader:

Katherine T. Kelly, Ph.D., Author and Speaker, "The Pioneer of Soul Health"

I am so thrilled to welcome you on this radiant soul health journey!

This restorative journey has been designed to help you 1) Transform your Life, 2) Inspire your Soul, and 3) Restore your body—all key aspects of women's radiance! Water has long been known to hold cleansing and restorative energy and there is no better setting than Lake Norman, North Carolina to caress your soul while gaining clarity, insight, and energy to step into the next chapter of your life. Lake Norman is an incredible place to do this and I've found a fantastic retreat-like, lakeside home in which to help you access your inner wisdom and harness your personal power.

I've designed this restorative journey to assist women at this important evolutionary juncture in time. Women are growing and evolving at such an incredible pace that sometimes we need the time, space, and guidance to slow down, restore, and consciously/mindfully create the next chapter of our optimal life. The "power of pause" is essential in the evolution of the feminine spirit, an investment that is certain to ensure your infinite growth. Congratulations on making a commitment to your soul's infinite evolution!

I have attended many retreats for my own personal growth and restoration and I'm thrilled to offer this one to guide you on your path to optimal living. Through my own evolution and experience as a retreat participant, I now offer this sacred journey to your soul to help you create a more radiant and soulful life.
